

Instructors: Literacy Education and Science Education (Part-Time)

Penn State Harrisburg is seeking part-time instructors to teach undergraduate courses in Literacy Education and Science Education in the School of Behavioral Sciences and Education. A master's degree in reading or teaching and curriculum with the reading specialist certification is required for the Literacy Education courses. A master's degree in science education is required for the Science Education courses. K-12 school teaching experience is required. Submit letter of application, specifically addressing position responsibilities and qualifications, current curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, a list of three professional references, including name, mail and e-mail addresses, and telephone numbers. Application review will begin June 25, 2009 and continue until the part-time positions for these 2009 Fall Semester vacancies have been filled. Applications will be received on an ongoing basis for future openings. Send materials to: Dr. Steven Melnick, Director of Teacher Education, Penn State Capital College – W314, 777 West Harrisburg Pike, Middletown, PA 17057. Electronic applications are welcome and can be sent to the following email address TeacherEducation@psu.edu. Penn State is committed to affirmative action, equal opportunity and the diversity of its workforce.